Helping Companies Get Back to Work

As many companies in Connecticut begin to plan for a reopening, it is essential that this transition is done in a safe and responsible way. Pat Munger Construction Company can be a valued resource to ensure your business is adequately prepared.

We can provide assistance in the following ways:

Protection & Safety Projects

Perform safety related projects necessary to establish social distancing boundaries, including plexiglass barriers, light sensors, intercom systems, partitions, automatic doorways and renovations.

Plexi-Glass partitions installed for office buildings

Munger Construction is fully staffed and readily available for facility assessments or projects of any size necessary to reopen your business.

Maintenance & Assessments

Perform any assessments, maintenance or repair work that may have already existed or have arisen from the facility being shut-down.

Additional Resources

Provide help in connecting your company to additional resources to ensure the essential criteria is accomplished.
